

5 PRAY THE PSALM OF THE WEEK Revelation 12:11; Psalm 33:1, 13-15

They overcame him by the blood / of the Lamb*
and by the word of their testi- / mony,
They did not / love their lives*
even / unto death.
Rejoice in the Lord, O you / righteous!*
For praise from the upright is / beautiful.
The Lord looks from / heaven;*
He sees all the / sons of men.
From the place of His dwell- / ing He looks* on all the inhabitants / of the earth;
He fashions their hearts indi- / vidually;*
He considers / all their works.

6 SAY TOGETHER THE VERSE OF THE WEEK Matthew 5:11-12

“Blessed are you when others revile against you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for so they persecuted the prophets who were before you.”

8 PRAY THE PRAYER OF THE WEEK

O almighty God, who has knit together Your elect in one communion and fellowship in the mystical body of Your Son Jesus Christ, our Lord, grant us grace so to follow Your blessed saints in all virtuous and godly living that we may come to those unspeakable joys that you have prepared for those who unfeignedly love You; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

9 PRAYER FOR OURSELVES AND OTHERS

10 SING OR SAY THE HYMN OF THE WEEK
Christ, Thou Art the Sure Foundation

TLH 466
Author Unknown

1. Christ, Thou art the sure Foundation,
Thou the Head and Corner-stone;
Chosen of the Lord and precious Binding all the Church in one;
Thou Thy Zion's Help forever
And her Confidence alone.

2. To this temple, where we call Thee,
Come, O Lord of hosts, today;
With Thy wonted loving-kindness
Hear Thy servants as they pray
And Thy fullest benediction Shed within these walls always.

3. Here vouchsafe to all Thy servants
What they ask of Thee to gain,
What they gain from Thee forever
With the blessed to retain,
And hereafter in Thy glory,
Evermore with Thee to reign.

4. Praise and honor to the Father,
Praise and honor to the Son,
Praise and honor to the Spirit,
Ever Three and ever One,
One in might and one in glory,
While unending ages run.

“The Blessedness of the Saints of God”

1 BLESS YOURSELF WITH THE HOLY CROSS AND SAY:
In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.

2 SAY THE APOSTLES' CREED
I believe in God, the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth.
And in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died and was buried. He descended into hell.
The third day He rose again from the dead. He ascended into heaven and sits at the right hand of God, the Father Almighty. From thence He will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy Christian church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. Amen.

3 PRAY THE LORD'S PRAYER
Our Father, who art in heaven,
hallowed be Thy name,
Thy kingdom come,
Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread;
and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us;
and lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.
For Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever and ever. Amen.

4 PRAY THE MORNING OR EVENING PRAYER

Morning. I thank You, my heavenly Father, through Jesus Christ, Your dear Son, that You have kept me this night from all harm and danger; and I pray that You would keep me this day also from sin and every evil, that all my doings and life may please You.
For into Your hands I commend myself, my body and soul, and all things. Let Your holy angel be with me, that the evil foe may have no power over me. Amen.

Evening. I thank you, my heavenly Father, through Jesus Christ, Your dear Son, that You have graciously kept me this day;
and I pray that You would forgive me all my sins where I have done wrong, and graciously keep me this night. For into Your hands, I commend myself, my body and soul, and all things. Let Your holy angel be with me, that the evil foe may have no power over me. Amen.

THEME OF THE WEEK: The Blessedness of the Saints of God

The saints are blessed in Christ; the saints on earth and the saints in heaven; the saints militant and the saints triumphant; the saints that are still sinners and the saints that have been forever freed from all sin. They are all blessed in Christ, blessed with the same promise, the same victory, the same salvation. The saints rejoice, whether in heaven or on earth. They rejoice in times of gladness and persecution. They rejoice in sorrow and in elation. For the saints are blessed with the victory of Christ Jesus their Lord. And that victory is as certain as the empty tomb on Easter morning.

SUN

SCRIPTURE: Matthew 5:1-12—Blessed Be

The Beatitudes give us eight conditions and eight subsequent promises. We would like the conditions to be about us. We would like to lay claim to be the poor in spirit, the mourners, the meek and merciful, the ones who desire righteousness and are pure in heart, the peacemaker and those persecuted for righteousness. In a sense we are, but the Beatitudes are also Christological, that is, they are about Jesus. And when they are about Jesus, then, and only then, can they truly be about us as well. For if Christ isn't all of these things for us, then we can't hope to be any of these things for our neighbors. The Church follows Her Bridegroom. The Body follows the Head. The sinners follow the Savior and are made to be saints. It's the way of the Christian faith. It's the way of salvation. It's the way of Jesus. Gracious Father, make us blessed in Christ Jesus. Amen.

MON

SCRIPTURE: 1 John 3:1-3—Children of God

We are saints. We will forever be saints. What is coming is far beyond our finite imaginations. The sinner within doesn't know what it will mean to be a saint that isn't still corrupted with sin. The Christian who struggles with sin right now still has difficulty grasping the fact that God has made us to be saints by faith. But we are. What else does it mean to be children of God? So in this world we sit and we wait for the coming of the Lord, knowing that we will be like Him when He comes again. And the world may despise us for it. The world may ridicule us for believing we have saintly natures, especially when our sinful ones still show their ugly faces. But the world does not know us because it does not know Christ. No matter! God knows us, and He knows us to be His children. Loving Father, make us to be Your children that our hope may abide in Christ. Amen.

TUE

SCRIPTURE: Revelation 7:2-17—The Great Multitude

John speaks to us again, just like yesterday. In Revelation, we get a glimpse as to what it will be like when the saints are brought forth from this Vale of Tears. The Church is sealed, stamped with the name of God upon Her forehead. And that means that the Church has eternal rest, far away from all the calamities that befall the world. To be sure, She must endure and suffer and weep before that day, but the promise of victory is already Hers, written upon Her forehead in the name of Her Lord. And so the Church Triumphantly stands in spotless white robes that have come out of a bloody red bath. Palm branches of victory are eternally waving before God and the Lamb who is Her very shepherd. And all tears are gone; pain and agony too. Even death is destroyed. Lamb of God, seal Your Church and bring Her safely to the glories of life eternal. Amen.

WED

SCRIPTURE: Isaiah 51:9-16—The Comfort of the Lord

Zion endures the consequences of Her sin: enslaved in a Babylonian captivity that is both real and metaphorical. She cries out for the arm of the Lord, for salvation from Her God, for He has never ceased to save Her. And so the Lord speaks comforting words, words of remembrance, words of past victories and past salvation. Why would Zion fear man who withers like grass? If the Lord has already saved Her through Red Sea washing and desert wandering, He will most certainly do it again. Remember and harken back to the things of salvation, to the things of Jesus, to the things of the cross. The Lord has already saved you from your enemies. So now as these enemies surround us, let us receive all the more the victory of that cross: Word and water, Bread and Wine. The Strength of the Lord's arm is given unto us. Holy Lord, never stop saving Zion. Amen.

THU

SCRIPTURE: Matthew 9:18-26—Funeral Crasher

A dirge playing in the background while mourners mourn in the foreground: That is a funeral in a nutshell. Tell me, what else is to be done at a funeral? We sit, we weep, and sing a song of lament for the dead. But then Jesus comes sweeping onto the scene and speaks of death only as sleep. To us this is laughable, but to Him death is no more than an afternoon nap that He wakes up His precious little children from. It's quite the dichotomy, for Jesus weeps at death, too. But He weeps as one Who still has the victory, Who hates this enemy that brings pain and sorrow even though He has all authority over it. Perhaps that is how we should weep as well: Not as ones who have no hope, but as ones who know that the victory is ours because the victory is His. Yes, death still stings, but the sting lasts but for a moment. Jesus, take us by the hand and raise us from the dead. Amen.

FRI

SCRIPTURE: Colossians 1:9-14—Paul Prays

Paul and Timothy pray for the saints at the Church in Colossae. That is what pastors do: they pray for their congregation. That is what Christians do: they pray for each other. The prayer is that the Church may be filled with the knowledge of God's will, that she may gain all wisdom to bear the fruit laid out for her, to bear and to increase in the knowledge of her God. This knowledge of the Lord is nothing less than the knowledge of His salvation. The Father has qualified His Church to share in the inheritance of the saints of which they are already, now but not yet. Because we have been moved from one kingdom to the next, from the kingdom of darkness to the kingdom of the Son, Paul prays that the Church might be kept steadfast in this faith and sing for joy in her glorious salvation. Father, may You ever send us pastors that continually pray over us. Amen.

SAT

SCRIPTURE: Psalms 125—Surrounded by God...

Lord God of all that is righteous and good, You have set Your holy people to be firm and unmovable, like Mount Zion itself. As Jerusalem is covered in the shadow of the mountains that surround her, so too are we sheltered from all harm and danger as You surround us both now and forevermore with Your gracious protection. Let not the wickedness of this world lay hold of us and may its dominion last but a short time. Turn our hearts to You, gracious Savior. Make us good, right, and holy in Your eyes through the work of Your Son that we might expect nothing but Fatherly divine love and mercy all the days of our lives. Grant us freedom from all evil and all those who would despise You, Your name, and Your holy people. Give us patience in these days of misery as we await the goodness of Your eternal life to come. In the name of Jesus. Amen.
